1, Explain behaviour of hub device

A network hub is a basic Networking device. A hub operats at layer 1 - physical layer. It is only Broad cast

2, Explain behaviour of switch device

A Network switch is a Networking device. Its a layer-2 Data link layer forward ethernet frames to the current destination part its a Broadcast and unicast.

3, Explain behaviour of router device

A router is a networking device that connects different ip network and forwards packet between them using ip address. A router typically operats and layer 3 Network layer. Its only unicast Branch same segment or ip than drop.